SUMMARY

After graduating from the Mechatronics Department of Balgat Anatolian Technical High School, I transferred to the Biomedical Device Technologies Department of Dokuz Eylül University. I decided to drop out of school to gain knowledge in software and robot programming and decided to open a cafe during that time. We started a decent family business. Thanks to this café, I acquired barista skills. Our business continued for three years, then I handed over the café and started working as a data clerk at Yesilyurt State Hospital.

For years, I earned money designing websites and assembling computers for my clients.

While I was attending Balgat Anatolian Technical high school, I did my practical internship at MAN A.Ş. factory.

I am currently working as a data controller at Atatürk Training and Research Hospital. Three years after I started working, I decided to return to my school with an amnesty. Now I am at the last year in school.

Some of the skills I have added to myself are: Solidworks and Java certified training.
